

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE IS A CRIME

Don't suffer in silence - you are not alone

People are abused on average 35 times before seeking help.

Domestic Violence can take a number of forms such as physical assault, sexual abuse, financial abuse and emotional abuse. It includes behaviours such as intimidation, humiliation, systematic criticism, belittling and stalking and occurs between people who are or have been in a close relationship.

If you are a victim of domestic violence, or a concerned friend or relative, you can speak with someone in confidence for advice and support
